

International Retreat: Space, Time and Embodiment

A new vision of reality ... a new way of being based on the Time-Space-Knowledge Vision of Tibetan Lama Tarthang Tulku

Wednesday 27 to Sunday 31, August 2014

Community for Reconciliation, Barnes Close,
Chadwich, Bromsgrove B61 0RA

What happens to experience when conventional structures of time and space dissolve into new possibilities? In the Time, Space, Knowledge Vision, Tibetan lama Tarthang Tulku—one of this century's most profound masters—explores this question in playful, surprising ways.

The goal of this retreat is to find ways to break free of our conditioning and awaken our creativity. When we live fully in each arising moment (TIME), with no distance between ourselves and the world we inhabit (SPACE), joy and intuitive insight (KNOWLEDGE) well up spontaneously. The secret to this transformation is a form of inquiry that is at once free, open, and embodied.

The Venue: Barnes Close is conveniently situated just over a mile from the M5, 30 minutes by car from Birmingham airport. The nearest station is Longbridge, from which a short taxi ride will bring you to the door.

Accommodation is in comfortable shared rooms. There are sitting rooms, a chapel and a library. The centre is immediately adjacent to Waseley Country Park. Here we will practice, wander, talk among ourselves, and reinvent our world.

Retreat Instructor: Jack Petranker is the founder and director of the CENTER FOR CREATIVE INQUIRY, organiser of this retreat. He has offered programs in the TSK vision—a path of inquiry bound to no tradition—since 1983. He is the author of When It Rains, Does Space Get Wet? (Dharma Publishing 2006) and a close student of Tarthang Tulku. A former dean of the Tibetan Nyingma Institute in California, he teaches meditation and Buddhist thought and is director of Mangalam Research Center for Buddhist Languages.
